DELIVER US FROM TEMPTATION.

Anyone who scrutinizes the lists of signers to the petitions calling for a special election in November to decide whether liquor shall be sold in Columbia County, will be surprised at the names it contains. If total abstainers alone voted for prohibition it would be overwhelmingly defeated; but it is evident that a great number of the signers are men who frequent saloons and some of them are addicted to the excessive use of liquors. These are the most earnest of all the opponents of the saloon. They understand their own weakness and they want the temptation removed from their path. The home is calling them one way and the saloon is offering its enticements to drag them back.

It is going to be put up to you to say which force you favor. The Mist knows that many men drink moderately and it does not appear to do them any harm; but we cannot see that it does them any good.

The law says you must spray your orchard in order to keep the pests from spreading.

You may be immune from the assaults of typhoid, diphtheria or smallpox, but you must maintain sanitary conditions on your premises in order to protect the community.

We cannot live for ourselves alone. The force of example is so strong that every man owes a duty to his community and to his neighbor.

We have heard of men who, while in sympathy with the anti-saloon movement, refused to sign the petition because they feared doing so would injure their business. We can understand this and sympathize with them. We are even willing to confess having been influenced by similar motives in past years.

But we believe the time has come when all thinking men must declare themselves in opposition to the saloon. It has refused to be controlled or regulated, and by its persistent violations of the law has created a public sentiment that demands its abolition.

FINE NEEDLEWORK.

Possibly the most remarkable feature at the County Fair was the display of lady's needle and fancy work. It was collected on very short notice and its extent and quality were a surprise to all. It is expected that next year's room will be set apart for a woman's department, to include needle work, decorated china, paintings and cookery. Among the most meritorious articles at the fair, according to the judgment of the judges were the following, with the names of the exhibitors:

- Mrs. Dodge, Columbia City, best single color piece.
- Mrs. Loog, Houlton, second best knit shawl.
- Mrs. Belle Sampson, Scappoose, second silk cravat patch quilt.
- Mrs. M. E. Glider, Deer Island, best collection of fancy work.
- Miss Alta Myers, Scappoose, best collection of waists.
- Mrs. W. E. Tinkham, Warren, best pieced log cabin silk quilt.
- Mrs. J. S. Bacon, Warren, best pieced cotton quilt.
- Mrs. Kate Cooper, Warren, second best finished cotton quilt.
- Miss Fannie Cooper, Warren, second best cotton pieced quilt—unfaded.
- Mrs. Edith Bacon, Warren, best collection of color work.
- Mrs. Milton Smith, Rainier, best Oriental netting.
- Mrs. Charles Norman, Rainier, best knit piece.
- Mrs. Tina Fredrickson, Rainier, best two pieces of hard auger.
- Mrs. Elizabeth Perry, Houlton, best crazy worked quilt.
- Miss Maud Watts, Scappoose, most artistic colored piece.
- Miss Marie Watts, Scappoose, second best collection.
- Mrs. Mildred Watts, Scappoose, best collection point lace.
- Miss Jessie McGregor, Deer Island, best collection burnt wood and baskets.
- Wallace and Fatus Crouse, Houlton, best collection of willow picture frames.

Miss Genevieve Boyle, Scappoose, best crayon.
Mrs. A. Malm, Rainier, best piece of crochet work.

Several of the pieces of work were notable for their age. The embroidery made by Mrs. J. E. Deane was worked in 1835. There was a collar made by Mrs. Richardson, of Rainier, mother of Mrs. Chas. John, of St. Helens, in 1835; a gown made by Mrs. Holcomb, mother of Mrs. W. B. Dillard, 35 years ago, and a christening robe, shown by Mrs. C. C. Masten, that is over 40 years old.

BASEBALL.

Last Friday afternoon the business men of Rainier came up here and made the St. Helens business men look like poor ball players, giving them the small end of an 18 to 9 score. The team of business men were the only ones the locals could get from Rainier, as the other bunch got cold feet, and decided to send up some one that could play ball. The game was replete with plays never before seen on a ball ground, including Dr. Cliff's wonderful peg to first. The fielding of McCormick, Sheldon and C. T. Prescott also deserves mention. (C. T. not F. B. Prescott. F. B. could not hit a balloon). For the visitors the hitting of Bell and Flippin were features. Vogel made a pretty catch at second. Did he know he had the ball?

ST. HELENS 9, RIDGEFIELD 0.
On Saturday Ridgefield was treated to a brilliant coat of white wash in a style that gladdened the hearts of the locals. Brakke dished up benders and switters that the visitors were altogether unable to do anything with, and when they did hit the ball it was a case of back to the bench just the same. Mc Duffee was behind the lat and caught a good game.

ST. HELENS 12, ST. JOHN'S 8.
And on Sunday the fast St. John's team was trimmed 12 to 8. Brakke started the twirling in this game, and for five innings pitched wonderful ball, not a hit being secured off his delivery, but the game the day before had left his arm sore, and Campbell went in in the sixth and pitched his usual good ball, the visitors getting around on errors. The game was a dandy, and demonstrates St. Helens' ability to mix with the Tr.-City League talent.

CLATSKANIE SUNDAY.

Next Sunday the team goes to Clatskanie on the morning train, to play at the "Gateway of the Nehalem." A good crowd always attend the games at this thriving burg.

YANKTON.

The Rev. T. B. Griswold, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Portland, gave an excellent address, both morning and evening, Sunday, Sept. 19th, in the church at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Dyon, of Maine, visited with Mr. Frank Brown's family last week. The two families were old friends in the Yankee State.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver, of Goble, were visiting the home of Mrs. Weaver's parents, Mr. and M. George Hyde, over Sunday.

Guy Tarbell and family from near Rainier, came up to attend the county fair, and visited with his father's family, Lawrence Tarbell.

Grandma Tarbell, known by so many old settlers, is very feeble.

Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Matthews, of Ardmore, Okla., have been visiting their sister, Mrs. S. A. Crosby. They started home Tuesday via Portland and Seattle.

George Kerr and family will move over near Sherman's mill. We hear they are going to live on the Felton place.

Dodd Bonney and family are returning to Yankton from the Yakima country, where they went last spring. Grandma and Grandpa Kale were visiting there last week, bringing three of the grand children home with them.

There is a brand new daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Briggs. The little lady arrived Monday, Sept. 27th.

William Karth is finishing his new house, a very pretty and comfortable cottage. Mr. Williams, of St. Helens, is painting it.

We hear that H. O. Howard is contemplating building a handsome new house on his farm of three hundred acres. He has several men working and putting the land under cultivation.

Dr. Ross and family, also Mrs. W. B. Dillard and sons, have returned to St. Helens, after rustication on the farm about two miles northwest of Yankton.

A number of Yankton people were at the county fair Saturday. We hope more will attend next year and not forget to take an exhibit that will cause the rest of the county to sit up and take notice—that this little village is really and truly alive, and can grow "garden sass" with the rest of them.

The ball game between the Yankton Colts and the Stanwood Hustlers was well attended. The score was 7 to 23 in favor of the Hustlers.

Mrs. F. O. Steward went to Rainier last week to see her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Vining.

Benzer Fitzgerald, of Amity, Oregon, has returned to Yankton and is at Stanwood's mill. His wife will probably come later.

Mr. Millis, a brother of Mrs. Hyde, expects his wife and son from Michigan in a few days. They will go to house-keeping on their farm about a mile and a half west of here.

Since the roads between here and Houlton have been put in such good condition, we feel quite near to the metropolis, St. Helens.

KIST

Frank Routledge came in Monday to visit his father-in-law, J. H. Turk. Mr. Routledge was a telegraph operator at the Union

Depot eighteen years, but for 2 years has been stationed at Ashland.

Willis Dallas started to Corvallis Sept. 24 to take up his second year's studies at O. A. C.

Dr. and Mrs. O. G. Weed, late of Kansas, nephew and niece of our fellow citizen, Judson Weed, visited the latter from Thursday of last week until Tuesday of this. They expect to visit Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Weed and Gertrude at Clatskanie and then return to Los Angeles, Cal., where Dr. Weed will take a post-graduate course in osteopathy.

Felson Rodgers started to Philomath Monday to take up his studies at the college at that place.

Miss Ethel Weed closed a successful six months term of school here last Friday. She started to Newberg Tuesday and will go to school there the coming year.

John Edholm and family started Tuesday for their new home at Goodin, Idaho. At Sunday School last Sunday a public expression of regret was made at losing this family from our community.

The new steel bridge at this place is nearing completion. It will be the pride of the Upper Nehalem.

P. Bergerson took his sister, Mrs. Bogscie, to Portland Tuesday. She has had a long and pleasant visit with her brother in the Nehalem Valley.
